GOES TO TRIAL AGAIN

The Ruling of the Circuit Court on the Vehicle Bill.

A FEW WORDS ON THE MONEY PAID

The Decision in Full—Verdicts Sustained and Verdicts Tumbled—A Complete Report From the Judges—Southern Part of the County Figures Well.

Lisbon, Feb. 12.—[Special.]—The circuit court handed down its last decision last night.

Judge Laube rendered an interesting decision in the case of Robert Hailes against East Liverpool, reversing the decision of Judge Smith and remanding the case for trial.

It will be readily remembered that the case was brought in common pleas to test the constitutionality of an ordinance passed by the East Liverpool council compelling the owners of all vehicles in the city to pay a license fee of $3. When tried the ordinance was held to be unconstitutional, but it was also held that the payment of the tax by Hailes and some other 500 citizens as a voluntary payment could not be recovered. The case was taken up on error in this ruling, and the court's decision of yesterday was as follows:

"Any reasonable amount of money collected for the benefit of the municipality collecting the same is in law considered a tax, and by reason of this fact the common pleas court had jurisdiction in this case, although the amount to be recovered was but $3. By the general rule, when the voluntary payment of a tax is made, it could not be recovered, unless it could be shown that the officers were about to seize property belonging to the person so taxed, or unless proceedings were pending against him to recover the same. This case has been affirmed and reaffirmed, this doctrine being recognized right along, but before a payment can be called a involuntary one, an attempt to levy or collect must be shown. In this case the plaintiff in error, if his vehicle had been used on the streets of East Liverpool, he would by the law have been fined $10 and costs for every offense and violation of the ordinance; and in order to save himself he stepped up and paid it. From this view of the case, is there any reason in law or reason why he should not be entitled to recover. It is intolerable to consider for a moment that a man who is a good citizen and obeys the law as laid down to him should be denied this remedy, and be classed with one who simply sets such law at defiance."

The case of Marshal Meehan and his bondsmen, Cooper and Turner, of Wellsville, against William Risher, appealed on error from Judge Robinson's decision, was but briefly reviewed by Judge Frazier, who affirmed the ruling of the lower court. The question involved touched the responsibility of the bondsmen of officials, and the decision rendered in full by the circuit court in this case sometime ago was of utmost importance as clearly defining their liability. The case was brought in common pleas by Risher to recover damages on Meehan's bond because of injuries he had received at his hand. Risher was arrested by Meehan, and when attempting to escape was shot. Being arrested for a petty offense it was shown Meehan had no right to shoot. Judge Billingsley held the bond was not liable, but when taken on error to the higher court this was reversed. Circuit court held that the bond was given for the faithful performance of his duty, and if he, while in the performance of an act within the line of his duty, steps beyond that line and does an illegal act, his bond is liable. Otherwise the giving of a bond would be no protection against illegal acts of an official.

The case of John S. Smith, C. C. Lawson, A. G. Makenzie and D. W. Smith against the Wellsville Fair association, resulted in sustaining the lower court. The case was brought on error in common pleas in charging the jury, and on the erroneous admission of evidence. Smith as treasurer of the association was charged with wrongful appropriation of the association's money, amounting to $265, $130 of which he paid himself as salary, and the remainder to the treasurer as salary. The judgment of Judge Smith was reversed in the case of I. S. Allison against Maggie Johnson, and the case remanded for such other proceedings as required by law. The plaintiff was on the bond for one Wilfred Allison to secure his release from custody, and for the payment of money by him to the defendant as the adjudged father of her illegitimate child. It was first heard in justice court in East Liverpool.

Judge Robinson was affirmed in the case of T. J. Garlic against John McCollough, appealed on error. It was one of a number originally brought in Wellsville, the issues of which were consolidated on appeal to save further litigation. It was to recover the use of a private landing, and in justice court a recovery in part resulted. It was confirmed in common pleas.

The ruling of Judge Smith in the suit of B. F. Ambler against J. T. Brooks was affirmed, and the motion to dissolve the injunction was sustained. It was to restrain Brooks from tearing up a siding of the Salem railroad on land belonging to him.

Judge Burrows delivered the decision in the case of George McGilvery against H. C. Walker, on error from common pleas, affirming the decision of Judge Smith.

The judgment of the lower court in the case of M. O. Lodge against Goddard, Hill & Co., was affirmed with costs, but no penalty.

Error was found in the ruling of the lower court in the case of Mrs. O. J. Dorsey versus the D. M. Dorsey, of East Palestine, and the judgment was entered, which, in the court's opinion, should have been entered below, and the petition was dismissed. Mrs. Dorsey sued the defendant, asking to have a chattel mortgage set aside on the ground that it had been obtained from her by threat. Her husband, while working for a sewing machine company, was guilty of embezzlement, and to save him she mortgaged her furniture to the brother who advanced the amount. Judge Smith decided there was no real duress, and gave Dorsey a judgment. The court last night held that the over-coming of the will of the party by threats constitutes duress.

THE PHOENIX BANQUET.

It Was an Occasion of Unusual Rejoicing and Gladness.

The banquet of the Phoenix club last night was one of those happy occasions for which the organization has become famous. The tables were spread in the quarters of the club in the Thompson building, and covers were laid for 40. Before the banquet was served the time was pleasantly spent, the Henderson orchestra rendering excellent music.

It was purely a social meeting, and for two hours the happy party sat at table. Solicitor F. E. Grosshans was toastmaster, and impromptu speeches were made by E. M. Crosser, J. H. Brookes, G. H. Owen and Thos. W. Morris. Mr. Brookes was heartily congratulated for the honor conferred upon him for having no opposition in his candidacy, and the gentleman responded in a happy strain. Enoch Elden added to the pleasure of the occasion by singing as he only can sing "Comin' Though the Rye." The evening's entertainment was complete in every particular.

TRADE IMPROVES.

New York Crockery Dealers Think Times Are Improving.

Says the New York correspondent of China, Glass and Lamps: "Trade in this city is looking up wonderfully, and considerable improvement has taken place since the middle of January. Buyers have been coming in regularly, and good orders have been placed for spring goods. The toy and doll departments have been well patronized, while stock patterns, to round up depleted stocks, have been drawn on heavily. This week also bids fair to be a large one, as the jobbers' convention will bring in many of the largest buyers in the country. The improved feeling in trade circles has made itself manifest in increasing imports, and every indication favors the assumption that a new era has been ushered in."

STOLE A PIGEON.

Then the Wicked Youngsters Wanted to Sell It.

Three boys from the central part of the city went to West End yesterday afternoon, and stole a pigeon from a boy named Garvey. Bringing it to town, they offered to sell it for five cents, but could not find a purchaser. The Garvey youth learned of his loss, and hurried through the streets, but could not find the pigeon. He threatened to have the crowd arrested if he could locate them.

SENT TO THE HOME.

Two Children Added to Our Colony at Fairmount.

Fred and Len Bradley, aged 12 and 14 years respectively, were this morning sent to the Fairmount Children's home. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bradley, of Washington street, but as their father is ill with potter's consumption and unable to look after them, it was thought best they be sent to the home.

SINGING FOR CHARITY

Best Concert of the Season at the Grand.

CROWDED TO THE DOORWAYS

A Splendid Audience Heard Some Very Good Talent—Numbers of a High Order That Were Loudly Applauded—The Receipts Were Most Gratifying.

The concert given at the Grand last night for the benefit of the building fund of the Christian church was all that was promised, and the magnificent audience sitting through the entire length of a program containing many numbers have seldom been so pleased or manifested their approval more heartily.

The first number, a piano solo by Henry Goetz, of Wellsville, placed the audience in the best of humor, and the little gentleman was enthusiastically applauded. He was followed by the ever popular George Davidson, and his rendition of "The Blow Almost Killed Father," made up as it was of local hits of the most pronounced type, was so entertaining that the audience demanded another, and he sang of his friend Bill's good luck with equal effect. Miss Hazel Reed was the next, and as it was her first appearance in public in the city the audience was attentive. Miss Reed is a clever artist, and her voice and gestures are far above the attainments of the average reader. "The Pride of Battery B" was given in a manner calculated to please, and when later in the evening she told of the naughty little girl the audience showed marked approval. Her selections are of that happy order causing her hearers to forget all but the reader, and her style is such as to make her friends from the start.

Miss Lida Belle Kountz with her violin are always favorites with the music loving public, and last night was far from being an exception. She played with that delicacy of touch characteristic, and was enthusiastically applauded. "Queen of the Earth" was the splendid solo by Prof. L. H. Harper. The gentleman never sang so well before an East Liverpool audience, and his effort was appreciated. Miss Alice Goodwin was at her best, and her singing of "He Comes" was nothing short of beautiful. The piece gives ample opportunity for her best accomplishments, and Miss Goodwin rose to it with admirable skill.

Mr. Joe McGinniss played as he always plays, very well. He was a favorite with the audience, but refused to acknowledge the demand for another selection. "A Summer Night" by Miss Mabelle Benedict was among the best and most pleasing numbers of the program. Miss Benedict, who is visiting in Wellsville from her home in Wellington, had never before sung to an audience in this city, but her talent and training were recognized at once, and the approval of the audience was most enthusiastic. Miss Goodwin and Mr. Davidson sang different versions of the ever beautiful "Sweet Antoinette," the parody being filled with wit of a high order. The audience compelled a repetition, and would not be content until the popular singers had been returned again and again to the stage. The delirious pantomime of the "Old Oaken Bucket" by Miss Reed was well received, because it was a performance of merit. Another pleasing feature of the entertainment was the singing of Master George Winters, of Steubenville. Although little more than a babe, his beautiful, clear voice and his pleasing appearance won the hearts of his hearers.

Taken all in all, and forgetting nothing, the concert was worthy of the cause for which it was given. The young ladies who devoted their time and energies to the entertainment deserve the thanks of the congregation for their efficient labors.

AN ASSOCIATION MEETING.

Secretary Kling Will Talk to the Young Men.

Assistant State Secretary W. A. Kling will address a meeting at the Association auditorium this evening. His discourse will relate to the state work of the association and to the upbuilding of the membership of the local branch. It is probable the delegates to the state convention will also be selected.

INFORMED ON THE LAW.

Crawford Gives Chief Johnson a Few Pointers.

Charles Crawford, the itinerant umbrella man at present working out his fine by cleaning city hall, is well posted on the statutes. He proceeded to enlighten Chief Johnson on the statutes concerning prisoners. He said, according to the provisions of the insolvency law, the authorities could not legally detain him longer than nine days. The chief thanked Crawford for this bit of information, and promised to see to it that a break in the law should not occur.

JAMES OBJECTS.

He Who Is Called Sharp Threatens the Newspapers.

Jim Sharp demands that the newspapers retract what they said about himself and his domestic affairs. He said it was the children and not he who caused the trouble in his household. The statement that he choked his wife, and knocked down the stove pipe for amusement he also refutes. Jim says the stove pipe fell without any material aid from him. Sharp threatens to annihilate the entire newspaper fraternity if he is not allowed to live in peace.

WANT IT PAVED.

West End Residents Are Tired of the Mud.

The condition of the Lisbon road this morning, to use the expression of a resident, was a "sea of mud and water." People who reside in that section of the city are determined not to spend another winter without having the street paved to the Jethro school, and will begin early in the spring to have council pass the required legislation. They believe the experience of the past few years will convince all concerned of the wisdom of paving.

RAN INTO A TREE.

An Accident on the Line Delayed Traffic.

A dead tree rolled from the hillside on the street car track at Brady's cut, and a car coming from Wellsville collided with it. The car was thrown from the rails, and the few passengers were roughly shaken. Word was at once sent to the power house, and help was not long in reaching the scene. It was long after midnight when the car finally reached the barn. As it was the last car up, the passengers walked to town.

WALKED IN THE MUD.

Ladies Were Driven Off the Sidewalk by a Teamster.

The practice which so many teamsters have of driving on the sidewalks at every opportunity compelled a number of ladies to walk in the mud of Washington street this morning. The pavement was blocked by a heavy wagon and two horses, and pedestrians were compelled to wait until a load of coal was transferred to a cellar or wade in the mud. The teamster should have been arrested.

TOOK THE WRONG CAR.

A Stranger Went to the East End.

A few days ago a young man came to the city and stopped at a hotel. He became mixed in his directions, and taking a street car started, as he supposed, up town. After riding for a long time he began to think the size of the city had increased. He was considerably surprised when the end of the line was reached, and he found he had gone to East End.

A PAIR OF CASES.

One Was Continued and the Other Tried Today.

The case of Cable versus Rinehart for $46 was heard this morning by Squire Manley. It consumed all morning and was continued until tomorrow.

The case of John T. McDonald versus Monroe Patterson for $57 was decided in favor of the defendant, and the plaintiff will have to pay the costs.

GOING TO CHURCH.

The American Mechanics and Other Orders.

The American Mechanics will on Feb. 21 attend the Christian church where they will be addressed by Prof. O. S. Reed on the subject of patriotism. All other patriotic orders in the city are invited to join with the Mechanics, and it is believed that a number will accept.

A Big Valve.

A ponderous check valve arrived at the freight depot this morning. It is for the water works. The present check valve at the lower pump house is out of order, and it will be replaced by the new one.

Don't Like the Change.

Residents of the north side of Cook street do not endorse with wild enthusiasm the proposed change in the street. They say it will leave their property too high to make it appear well.

—C. W. Hutcheson is home after a visit of several days in Pittsburg and Lisbon.

HE ONCE WAS FAMOUS

The History of Billy Davidson's Dead Nobby.

HELD THE WORLD'S RECORD

It Has Developed That One of the Worst Looking Horses Ever Seen in the City Was a Fast One in His Day, but That Was Long Ago.

Everybody in town knew Billy Davidson's horse Nobby, and everybody thought he could go, but looked upon him as one of the ugliest animals ever seen on the streets. Read what the Horseman of this week has to say of Nobby:

"Another old campaigner, Nobby, 2:18½, is dead. To mention Nobby is to think of Splan, for it was the Glenville driver who raced the square-faced gelding so successfully through the Grand circuit in the early eighties. Nobby came into the possession of W. C. Davidson, of East Liverpool, Ohio, about a year ago, having been secured by him from a dealer after the old gelding had been battered about a good deal, and for the sake of what he had been Mr. Davidson determined to give him the best of care and attention for the remainder of his days. When sleighing came on this winter Nobby was in excellent order, and just as eager as ever for a brush on the road. There was a bad spell of weather the latter part of January, and Nobby was not out of the stable for a week. Then the snow came, and there was fine sleighing. Sunday afternoon Mr. Davidson gave him a 20-minute drive, and he appeared as full of life as a colt. The day was very cold, and the gelding was carefully covered on the return to the stable with warm blanket and hood. Nothing wrong was noticed until Tuesday morning, when he refused his food, and a veterinarian was called. In 36 hours the gelding died from what was termed influenza, but was undoubtedly tortic pneumonia.

"Nobby was 21 years old at the time of his death, and was bred by J. L. Rawlins, Gravel Switch, Ky. He was not campaigned until he was six years old, when W. A. Russell took him through the Kentucky circuit. Then he went into the stable of W. J. Gordon, and in the hands of John Splan was a good winner on the Grand circuit. How he compared with the horses of his day may be better appreciated when it is recalled that his record of 2:18½ was made in the third heat of a race, and that in the same race he forced Charley Hilton out on a fourth heat in 2:17½, at a time when the best mile ever trotted in a race was but four seconds below that figure. Nobby was a member of the four-in-hand team, which held the world's record of 2:37 for 10 years, until the Stinson four made the sweeping reduction last year."

Revival Meetings.

Revival meetings will be held in the Methodist Protestant church next week. Rev. J. H. Shimp, an eloquent Pittsburg divine, will be in charge. Rev. Isaac Naylor, who is conducting gospel meetings in Wellsville, may also be present.

Ice Delaying Boats.

The river is stationary. No boats will pass today. The Virginia was expected this morning, but news came later that on account of the ice it will not arrive here until early next week. The Argand is due up tomorrow morning.

Captured in Wellsville.

Six lads from this city stole 22 pigeons from the coop of Officer Morgan, in Wellsville, last evening. They were discovered, and one of the number, Frank Williams, captured. He is still in jail.

Called on Their Friends.

A number of persons found amusement last night in depositing oyster buckets in the doorways of Diamond business houses. The residences of several prominent business men were also visited.

Filled a Few Holes.

Two large holes on Bank street were filled this morning by Commissioner Finley and his force. The remainder of the day was well spent cleaning crossings.

A Party.

Miss Lenora Smith last evening very pleasantly entertained a large number of friends. The evening was spent in dancing and games. Lunch was served.

GOES TO TRIAL AGAIN

The Ruling of the Circuit Court
on the Vehicle Bill.

A FEW WORDS ON THE MONEY PAID

The Decision in Full—Verdicts Sustained and Verdicts Tumbled—A Complete Report From the Judges—Southern Part of the County Figures Well.

Lisbon, Feb. 12.—[Special.]—The circuit court handed down its last decision
last night.

Judge Laube rendered an interesting decision in the case of Robert Hailes against East Liverpool, reversing the decision of Judge Smith and remanding
the case for trial.

It will be readily remembered that the case was brought in common pleas to test the constitutionality of an ordinance passed by the East Liverpool council compelling the owners of all vehicles in the city to pay a license fee of $3.
When tried the ordinance was held to be unconstitutional, but it was also held that the payment of the tax by Hailes
and some other 500 citizens as a voluntary payment could not be recovered.
The case was taken up on error in this ruling, and the court's decision of yesterday was as follows:

"Any reasonable amount of money
collected for the benefit of the municipality collecting the same is in law considered a tax, and by reason of this fact the common pleas court had jurisdiction in this case, although the amount to be recovered was but $3. By the general rule, when the voluntary payment of a tax is made, it could not be recovered, unless it could be shown that the officers were about to seize property belonging to the person
so taxed, or unless proceedings were pending against him to recover the same.
This case has been affirmed and reaffirmed, this doctrine being recognized right along, but before a payment can be called a involuntary one, an attempt to levy or collect must be shown.
In this case the plaintiff in error, if his vehicle had been used on the streets of East Liverpool, he would by the law have been fined $10 and costs for every offense and violation of the ordinance;
and in order to save himself he stepped up and paid it. From this view of the case, is there any reason in law or reason why he should not be entitled to recover. It is intolerable to consider for a moment that a man who is a good citizen and obeys
the law as laid down to him
should be denied this remedy,
and be classed with one
who simply sets such law at defiance."

The case of Marshal Meehan and his bondsmen, Cooper and Turner, of Wells-ville, against William Risher, appealed on error from Judge Robinson's decision, was but briefly reviewed by Judge Frazier, who affirmed the ruling of the lower court. The question involved touched the responsibility of the bondsmen of officials, and the decision rendered in full by the circuit court in this case sometime ago was of utmost importance as clearly defining their liability. The case was brought in common pleas by Risher to recover damages on Meehan's bond because of injuries he had received at his hand. Risher was arrested by Meehan, and when attempting to escape was shot. Being arrested for a petty offense it was shown Meehan had no right to shoot. Judge Billingsley held the bond was not liable, but when taken on error to the higher court this was reversed. Circuit court held that the bond was given for the faithful performance of his duty, and if he, while in the performance of an act within the line of his duty, steps beyond that line and does an illegal act,
his bond is liable. Otherwise the giving of a bond would be no protection against illegal acts of an official.

The case of John S. Smith, C. C.
Lawson, A. G. Mackenzie and D.
W. Smith against the Wellsville Fair association, resulted in sustaining the lower court. The case was brought on error in common pleas in charging the jury, and on the erroneous admission of evidence.
Smith as treasurer of the association was charged with wrongful appropriation of the association's money, amounting to $365, $130 of which he paid himself as salary, and the remainder to the treasurer as salary.

The judgment of Judge Smith was reversed in the case of I. S. Allison against Maggie Johnson, and the case remanded for such other proceedings as required by law. The plaintiff was on the bond for one Wilfred Allison to secure his release from custody, and for the payment of money by him to the defendant as the adjudged father of her illegitimate child. It was first heard in justice court in East Liverpool.

Judge Robinson was affirmed in the case of T. J. Garlic against John Mc-Collough, appealed on error. It was one of a number originally brought in Wellsville, the issues of which were consolidated on appeal to save further litigation. It was to recover the use of a private landing, and in justice court a recovery in part resulted. It was confirmed in common pleas.

The ruling of Judge Smith in the suit of B. F. Ambler against J. T.
Brooks was affirmed, and the motion
to dissolve the injunction was sustained.
It was to restrain Brooks from tearing up a siding of the Salem railroad on land belonging to him.

Judge Burrows delivered the decision in the case of George McGilvery against H. C. Walker, on error from common pleas, affirming the decision of Judge Smith.

The judgment of the lower court in the case of M. O. Lodge against Goddard, Hill & Co., was affirmed with costs, but no penalty.

Error was found in the ruling of the lower court in the case of Mrs. O. J.
Dorsey versus the D. M. Dorsey, of East Palestine, and the judgment was entered, which, in the court's opinion, should have been entered below, and
the petition was dismissed. Mrs.
Dorsey sued the defendant, asking to have a chattel mortgage set aside on the ground that it had been obtained from her by threat. Her husband, while working for a sewing machine company,
was guilty of embezzlement, and to save him she mortgaged her furniture to the brother who advanced the amount.
Judge Smith decided there was no real duress, and gave Dorsey a judgment.
The court last night held that the overcoming of the will of the party by threats constitutes duress.

THE PHOENIX BANQUET.

It Was an Occasion of Unusual Rejoicing
and Gladness.

The banquet of the Phoenix club last night was one of those happy occasions for which the organization has become famous. The tables were spread in the quarters of the club in the Thompson building, and covers were laid for 40. Before the banquet was served the time was pleasantly spent,
the Henderson orchestra rendering excellent music.

It was purely a social meeting, and for two hours the happy party sat at table.
Solicitor F. E. Grosshans was toastmaster, and impromptu speeches were made by E. M. Crosser, J. H. Brookes,
G. H. Owen and Thos. W. Morris. Mr.
Brookes was heartily congratulated for the honor conferred upon him for having no opposition in his candidacy, and the gentleman responded in a happy strain. Enoch Elden added to the pleasure of the occasion by singing as he only can sing "Comin' Though the Rye." The evening's entertainment was complete in every particular.

TRADE IMPROVES.

New York Crockery Dealers Think Times

Says the New York correspondent of China, Glass and Lamps:

"Trade in this city is looking up wonderfully, and considerable improvement has taken place since the middle of January. Buyers have been coming in but as their father is ill with potter's complishments, and Miss Goodwin rose to it with admirable skill.

Mr. Joe McGinniss played as he always plays, very well. He was a favorite with the audience, but refused to acknowledge the demand for another selection. "A Summer Night"
by Miss Mabelle Benedict was among the best and most pleasing numbers of the program.
Miss Benedict, who is visiting in Wells-ville from her home in Wellington, had never before sung to an audience in this city, but her talent and training were recognized at once, and the approval of the audience was most enthusiastic.
Miss Goodwin and Mr. Davidson sang different versions of the ever beautiful
"Sweet Antoinette," the parody being filled with wit of a high order. The audience compelled a repetition, and would not be content until the popular singers had been returned again and again to the stage.
The delectable pantomime of the "Old Oaken Bucket" by Miss Reed was well received, because it was a performance of merit. Another pleasing feature of the entertainment was the singing of Master George Winters, of Steubenville. Although little more than a babe, his beautiful, clear voice and his pleasing appearance won the hearts of his hearers.

Taken all in all, and forgetting nothing, the concert was worthy of the cause for which it was given. The young ladies who devoted their time and energies to the entertainment deserve the thanks of the congregation for their efficient labors.

AN ASSOCIATION MEETING.

Secretary Kling Will Talk to the Young Men.

Assistant State Secretary W. A. Kling
will address a meeting at the Association auditorium this evening. His discourse will relate to the state work of the association and to the upbuilding of the membership of the local branch. It is probable the delegates to the state convention will also be selected.

INFORMED ON THE LAW.

Crawford Gives Chief Johnson a Few Pointers.

Charles Crawford, the itinerant umbrella man at present working out his fine by cleaning city hall, is well posted on the statutes. He proceeded to enlighten Chief Johnson on the statutes concerning prisoners. He said, according to the provisions of the insolvency law, the authorities could not legally detain him longer than nine days. The chief thanked Crawford for this bit of information, and promised to see to it that a break in the law should not occur.

JAMES OBJECTS.

He Who Is Called Sharp Threatens the Newspapers.

Jim Sharp demands that the newspapers retract what they said about himself and his domestic affairs. He said it was the children and not he who caused the trouble in his household.
The statement that he choked his wife,
and knocked down the stove pipe for amusement he also refutes. Jim says
the stove pipe fell without any material aid from him. Sharp threatens to annihilate the entire newspaper fraternity if he is not allowed to live in peace.

WANT IT PAVED.

West End Residents Are Tired of the Mud.

The condition of the Lisbon road this morning, to use the expression of a resident, was a "sea of mud and water."
People who reside in that section of the city are determined not to spend another winter without having the street paved to the Jethro school, and will begin early in the spring to have council pass the required legislation. They believe the experience of the past few years will convince all concerned of the wisdom of paving.

RAN INTO A TREE.

An Accident on the Line Delayed
Traffic.

A dead tree rolled from the hillside
on the street car track at Brady's cut,
and a car coming from Wellsville collided with it. The car was thrown from the rails, and the few passengers were roughly shaken. Word was at once sent to the power house, and help was not long in reaching the scene. It was long after midnight when the car finally reached the barn. As it was the last car up, the passengers walked to town.

WALKED IN THE MUD.

Ladies Were Driven Off the Sidewalk by a Teamster.

The practice which so many teamsters
have of driving on the sidewalks at every opportunity compelled a number of ladies to walk in the mud of Washington street this morning. The pavement was blocked by a heavy wagon and two horses, and pedestrians were compelled to wait until a load of coal was transferred to a cellar or wade in the mud.
The teamster should have been arrested.

TOOK THE WRONG CAR.

A Stranger Went to the East End.

A few days ago a young man came to the city and stopped at a hotel. He became mixed in his directions, and taking a street car started, as he supposed, up town. After riding for a long time he began to think the size of the city had increased. He was considerably surprised when the end of the line was reached, and he found he had gone to East End.

A PAIR OF CASES.

One Was Continued and the Other Tried Today.

The case of Cable versus Rinehart for $46 was heard this morning by Squire Manley. It consumed all morning and was continued until tomorrow.

The case of John T. McDonald versus Monroe Patterson for $57 was decided in favor of the defendant, and the plaintiff will have to pay the costs.

GOING TO CHURCH.

The American Mechanics and Other Orders.

The American Mechanics will on Feb. 21 attend the Christian church
where they will be addressed by Prof.
O. S. Reed on the subject of patriotism.
All other patriotic orders in the city are invited to join with the Mechanics, and it is believed that a number will accept.

A Big Valve.

A ponderous check valve arrived at the freight depot this morning. It is for the water works. The present check valve at the lower pump house is out of order, and it will be replaced by the new one.

Don't Like the Change.

Residents of the north side of Cook street do not endorse with wild enthusiasm the proposed change in the street.
They say it will leave their property too high to make it appear well.

—C. W. Hutcheson is home after a visit of several days in Pittsburgh and Lisbon.

HE ONCE WAS FAMOUS

The History of Billy Davidson's
Dead Nobby.

HELD THE WORLD'S RECORD

It Has Developed That One of the Worst
Looking Horses Ever Seen in the City
Was a Fast One in His Day, but That Was Long Ago.

Everybody in town knew Billy Davidson's horse Nobby, and everybody thought he could go, but looked upon him as one of the ugliest animals ever seen on the streets. Read what the Horseman of this week has to say of Nobby:

"Another old campaigner, Nobby, 2:18½, is dead. To mention Nobby is to think of Splan, for it was the Glenville driver who raced the square-faced gelding so successfully through the Grand circuit in the early eighties.
Nobby came into the possession of W. C.
Davidson, of East Liverpool, Ohio, about a year ago, having been secured by him from a dealer after the old gelding had been battered about a good deal, and for the sake of what he had been Mr. Davidson determined to give him the best of care and attention for the remainder of his days. When sleighing came on this winter Nobby was in excellent order, and just as eager as ever for a brush on the road. There was a bad spell of weather
the latter part of January, and Nobby
was not out of the stable for a week.
Then the snow came, and there was fine sleighing. Sunday afternoon Mr. Davidson gave him a 20-minute drive, and he appeared as full of life as a colt.
The day was very cold, and the gelding was carefully covered on the return to the stable with warm blanket and hood.
Nothing wrong was noticed until Tuesday morning, when he refused his food, and a veterinarian was called. In 36 hours the gelding died from what was termed influenza, but was undoubtedly votarie pneumonia.

"Nobby was 21 years old at the time of his death, and was bred by J. L.
Rawlins, Gravel Switch, Ky. He was not campaigned until he was six years old, when W. A. Russell took him through the Kentucky circuit. Then he went into the stable of W. J. Gordon, and in the hands of John Splan was a good winner on the Grand circuit. How he compared with the horses of his day
may be better appreciated when it is recalled that his record of 2:18½ was made in the third heat of a race, and that in the same race he forced Charley Hilton out on a fourth heat in 2:17½, at a time when the best mile ever trotted in a race was but four seconds below that figure. Nobby was a member of the four-in-hand team, which held the world's record of 2:37 for 10 years, until the Stinson four made the sweeping reduction last year."

Revival Meetings.

Revival meetings will be held in the Methodist Protestant church next week.
Rev. J. H. Shimp, an eloquent Pittsburg divine, will be in charge. Rev.
Isaac Naylor, who is conducting gospel meetings in Wellsville, may also be present.

Ice Delaying Boats.

The river is stationary. No boats will pass today. The Virginia was expected this morning, but news came later that on account of the ice it will not arrive here until early next week.
The Argand is due up tomorrow morning.

Captured in Wellsville.

Six lads from this city stole 22 pigeons
from the coop of Officer Morgan, in Wellsville, last evening. They were discovered, and one of the number, Frank Williams, captured. He is still in jail.

Called on Their Friends.

A number of persons found amusement last night in depositing oyster buckets in the doorways of Diamond business houses. The residences of several prominent business men were also visited.

Filled a Few Holes.

Two large holes on Bank street were filled this morning by Commissioner Finley and his force. The remainder of the day was well spent cleaning crossings.

A Party.

Miss Lenora Smith last evening very pleasantly entertained a large number of friends. The evening was spent in dancing and games. Lunch was served.

A Son.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Washington
Williams, of Peake's Point, a son.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, FEB. 12

For originality Kansas can have the cake. Its latest freak is a legislator who introduced a bill giving county offices to the highest bidder.

AFTER the starving people of India grow weary sacrificing to their sacred cow, they might find more substantial relief by sacrificing the cow.

PITTSBURG and Philadelphia each want the state capitol, but from this distance neither seems to stand a chance if Beaver happens to ask for the new building.

It is developing that General Weyler is not the only butcher in Cuba. Some of his brutal officers are showing points in cruelty which their chief has never yet attempted.

EVERYBODY expects East Liverpool to get its share of the new prosperity, and it will, but there must be no croaking. Let everybody pull together, and the city will prosper as it never prospered before.

UNCLE SAM's fleet of expensive iron-clads are now maneuvering in Charleston harbor, a very good move for the good of the fleet. Past experience has shown the danger of allowing those big boats to go too far from shore.

SECRETARY BYERS, of the state board of charities, announces in his report that the 16 state institutions cost Ohio last year $2,320,046.13. The charge can never be made that the Buckeye State does not care for its unfortunate.

The report of the civil service commission shows there are only 91,610 places not in the classified list, but of those some 66,000 are four class post-masterships, so the ambitious need not dream pleasant dreams of official position.

GROVER and his clover will soon be a thing of the past in this country, and no one will be more joyful than those same Democrats who four years ago surged on to Washington by the thousands, and shouted themselves hoarse for the stuffed prophet of Buffalo.

RED tape is carefully being wrapped about the immigration bill now before congress in the hope of delaying a vote until the last. There is no excuse for this. Congress knows the people, without regard to partisan feeling, want that bill passed and passed without delay.

THE wool growers are determined that the tariff bill will give them ample protection, and with that end in view a committee has again interviewed the ways and means committee. We hope they will get what they ask. This county has lost several hundred thousands of dollars because the Democrats failed to protect its sheep.

THE NEXT COUNCIL.

If East Liverpool is to have a business administration of its affairs, it must place the power in the hands of men conversant with the needs of the city and possessed of sufficient common sense to prevent the passage of unwise and harmful legislation. Men who have some flighty scheme or pet idea are not wanted any more than those who have a surplus of theory to inflict upon their constituents. If experiments must be tried let some other town go into that expensive business. We cannot afford it. Many mistakes have been made by other councils, and the city has been called upon to pay for ideas for whose enactment into law there was no possible excuse, and the time has come for a reform which reforms. Conservative men, who do not fear to oppose what is wrong and are equally firm in upholding what is right, are the only men, who should apply for places in council this year. They are needed, and it is earnestly hoped they will early make themselves known.

Carnegie Makes Another Reduction In Expenses.

WILL THE ORE POOL LIVE?

This Is the Question That is Now Agitating the Iron Men—Indications That There Will Be a Boom in the Steel Rail Business.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 12.—What is called the last move in a long line of reductions has been made by Carnegie. Hereafter he will use the Rockefeller ore, and it will be looked after by his Cleveland agent. An item of interest in connection with the collapse of the rail pool is the fact that the Cleveland rolling company has been receiving $100,000 per annum for refraining from making steel rails. Many of the Cleveland ore men claim that the ore pool is not affected by the death of the rail and billet pool, for the reason that the railroads, taking advantage of the lower prices, are putting in heavy orders for rails which will call for a vast quantity of ore.

The ore producers have held several meetings here during the past two or three months, but in each case have adjourned without deciding upon a policy or fixing prices for the present year. Another meeting was to have taken place here Feb. 16, but it is stated that for various reasons it has been postponed and will not be held until toward the latter part of the present month. It is expected then that the ore men will either enter into a joint agreement with regards to output and prices, or will decide to let each man shift for himself.

One of the largest ore producers on Lake Superior said that beyond the fact that Mr. Carnegie had leased from John D. Rockefeller one or two mines he felt confident that there had been no further deal between them and that all the talk about consolidation of interests or working arrangement between the two was without foundation.

Materials to Help the Suffering Will Also Be Acceptable to the Red Cross Society's President—Destitution Known to Exist on the Island.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Knowing from authentic sources of the destitution existing in Cuba the American Red Cross society offered its services as an organization. Some international flattery presenting itself, Miss Barton immediately offered herself and her officers for individual service in Cuba, provided Spain accede and the American people desired to place their contributions of money or materials in the hands of Miss Barton and her officers.

A communication from the Spanish minister has been received accepting the offer, and Miss Barton and her officers announce that they are ready to go to Cuba, provided people desire to place in Miss Barton's hands a sum sufficient to relieve the necessities of the people of that island.

WAR FLEETS MAY FIGHT.

Turkish and Greek Squadrons May Collide in the Waters About Crete—Bulgaria May Be Greece's Ally—Insurgents to Form a Government.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—A dispatch to The Times from Athens says that the central Cretan committee is preparing to support the Cretans with arms, ammunition and supplies on a great scale. The departure of the Greek torpedo flotilla for the island of Crete was due to the announcement that Turkish torpedo-boats had left the Dardanelles and that Turkish troops had embarked at Salonika for Crete.

It is possible that a direct collision will occur between the Greek and Turkish forces. The insurgent leaders have now assembled for a conference, and it is understood that a constitution and a provisional government will shortly be promulgated.

It is asserted that M. Dimitroff, the Bulgarian diplomatic agent, has been entrusted with a specific mission to negotiate an agreement between Bulgaria and Greece for combined action in Macedonia.

This Is the Question That Is Now Agitating the Iron Men—Indications That There Will Be a Boom in the Steel Rail Business.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 12.—What is called the last move in a long line of reductions has been made by Carnegie. Heretofore he has received his ore through middlemen. Hereafter he will use the Rockefeller ore, and it will be looked after by his Cleveland agent. An item of interest in connection with the collapse of the rail pool is the fact that the Cleveland rolling company has been receiving $100,000 per annum for refraining from making steel rails. ation. It is reported in this city that the Rockefeller-Carnegie ore interests will not recognize the pool prices, and this, it is believed, will cause an abandonment of the ore pool. The fact has become well known that with the advantages possessed by these ore and steel magnates they can undersell all competition.

Reports from Chicago say that the Carnegie agents are quoting steel rails at $17 a ton and there are indications of a further drop of prices. When the pool price for rails last November was $28 a ton in the United States, the Carnegie company filled a large contract with the Japanese government at $17 per ton f. o. b. cars at Pittsburgh.

The collapse of the rail pool means prosperity for the iron, steel, ore and coke industries. With high prices railroad companies were prevented from buying, and the production was far below the normal. It is said that rails are selling in England at $34 a ton. As the freight from Pittsburgh across the ocean is $1.50 a ton, it is reported that the Carnegie company and other producers of rails will export some of the product of their mills. It is reported that the dissolution of the rail pool was partly due to cuts in prices made by the company.

Henry W. Oliver, who engineered the recent ore deal, is to leave for Europe tomorrow. Owing to his close connection with the Carnegie company it is said his trip is for the purpose of making contracts with foreign consumers.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—The flurry and excitement in the iron and steel trades here, caused by the dissolution of the steel rail pool and the cut of $17 per ton in Chicago, subsided and the belief is expressed that a recovery will follow before the close of the week. It was officially stated here that no sales had been made by any of the companies in this state below the $20 rate, and Joseph Wharton, a director of the Bethlehem Iron company, one of the corporations which was included in the pool, said he did not believe the cut rate made by the Illinois Steel company would be met in Pennsylvania.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—President Gates of the Illinois Steel company has left hurriedly for Pittsburgh bent, it is declared, upon restoring peace with the Carnegie interests. Sales of 46,400 tons of rails by the Carnegie company at $17 per ton to railroads in the Illinois Steel company's territory were supposed to have stirred Mr. Gates.

Accused of Stealing Historical Letters. WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Philip McElhono, for years official reporter of the house of representatives, and Lewis M. Turner, both employees of the congressional library, have been arrested by secret service officers charged with larceny of autograph letters from the library.

The Senate Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The senate passed the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, and fixed next Wednesday, at 4 p. m., as the time for a final vote on the immigration conference report.

Rolling Mill to Resume.

NEWPORT, Ky., Feb. 12.—The announcement is made that the Newport rolling mill will resume next Monday, giving employment to 400 men.

RED CROSS FOR CUBA.

Spain Accepts Clara Barton's Benevolent Offer.

CASH CONTRIBUTIONS ARE NEEDED

Materials to Help the Suffering Will Also Be Acceptable to the Red Cross Society's President—Destitution Known to Exist on the Island.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Knowing from authentic sources of the destitution existing in Cuba the American Red Cross society offered its services as an organization. Some international flaw presenting itself, Miss Barton immediately offered herself and her officers for individual service in Cuba, provided Spain accede and the American people desired to place their contributions of money or materials in the hands of Miss Barton and her officers. A communication from the Spanish minister has been received accepting the offer, and Miss Barton and her officers announce that they are ready to go to Cuba, provided people desire to place in Miss Barton's hands a sum sufficient to relieve the necessities of the people of that island.

WAR FLEETS MAY FIGHT.

Turkish and Greek Squadrons May Collide in the Waters About Crete—Bulgaria May Be Greece's Ally—Insurgents to Form a Government.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—A dispatch to The Times from Athens says that the central Cretan committee is preparing to support the Cretans with arms, ammunition and supplies on a great scale.

The departure of the Greek torpedo flotilla for the island of Crete was due to the announcement that Turkish torpedo-boats had left the Dardanelles and that Turkish troops had embarked at Salonika for Crete.

It is possible that a direct collision will occur between the Greek and Turkish forces. The insurgent leaders have now assembled for a conference, and it is understood that a constitution and a provisional government will shortly be promulgated.

It is asserted that M. Dimitroff, the Bulgarian diplomatic agent, has been entrusted with a specific mission to negotiate an agreement between Bulgaria and Greece for combined action in Macedonia.

A number of Christians and Mussulmen have been killed.

Condition of the Treasury.

SHERMAN WON'T RECONSIDER.

He Again Denies a Silly Rumor at Washington.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 12.—The Commercial Tribune's Washington correspondent telegraphs the following interview with Senator Sherman:

"Senator, the report has again been published that, owing to certain complications, you would not enter the cabinet. Will you authorize The Commercial Tribune to authoritatively deny this report?"

"They are not true. I do not consider them worth denying. You may say for me, however, that I have never considered such a thing as not accepting the state portfolio since my acceptance of it. That would not be in accordance with my way of doing, and all reports to the contrary are so ridiculous that they are not worth denying."

TO CONTROL SOFT COAL

A Meeting of Representatives of Ohio Roads at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 12.—At a secret meeting held in this city there was consummated an agreement that will practically control the soft coal product of the state. It was a session of representatives of the Ohio Soft Coal association and of railroads in the association territory.

It was decided to establish a single sales agency for all of the Ohio bituminous coal producers. Then there was a discussion of the percentage of the traffic to be handled by each of the lines. The details of that arrangement were not completed, but they will be, it is expected, at a meeting to be held in Chicago next Tuesday.

Akron Men to Control.

AKRON, O., Feb. 12.—A meeting of the directors of the Akron Iron and Steel company has been held here and as a result of the meeting the company will be reorganized. It was agreed that the foreign stockholders should dispose of their stock to the Akron men, thus leaving the management of the company with local parties.

Working Time Reduced.

WELLSVILLE, O., Feb. 12.—The employees of the car repairing department of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad shops at this place have been notified that hereafter that department would work but six hours per day and five days per week. The cut affects about 300 men.

WOOL MEN CAN'T AGREE.

Conference Between Growers and Manufacturers a Failure.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—After a series of conferences extending over several days, the woolgrowers and wool manufacturers have failed to adjust their differences over the rates of duty to be recommended to the ways and means committee for the new tariff bill now in process of formation, and have departed for their homes.

These differences the two bodies found to be irreconcilable, the growers being unwilling to consent to rates at which they declare they cannot continue to produce wool with profit, and the manufacturers feeling that the rates of the growers was higher than was proper or politic.

GOLD BONDS BARRED.

Silver Men Won Advantage in a House Skirmish.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The house has passed the fortifications appropriation bill with but a single amendment and made some headway with the post-office appropriation bill. The bill aroused the opposition of Mr. McMillin (Dem., Tenn.) because it provided for gold bonds and the payment of interest in gold or its equivalent. A long political debate followed.

An amendment by Mr. McMillin, providing that the principal and interest of bonds funded under the act (except certain Arizona bonds heretofore issued) shall be payable in any lawful money of the United States, was adopted, 149 to 7, and the bill was then passed.

DR. MITCHELL ARRESTED.

A Prominent Physician Charged With the Death of Sadie Beal.

SOMERSET, Pa., Feb. 12.—Dr. W. F. Mitchell, one of the oldest and best-known practitioners in this county, has been arrested at his home in Petersburg charged with having performed a criminal operation upon Miss Sadie S. Beal, who died at the Allegheny General hospital on the night of Jan. 7.

Convicted of Conspiracy.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 12.—A. L. Spencer and Thomas Aubrey of Scranton, representing the Phoenix Contract company have been convicted of conspiracy in having obtained from C. W. Koons of Audenreid $10,000 worth of goods, which they afterward disposed of at one-half their face value and divided the money between them.

Cleared of a Murder.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Charles A. Foley, the ticket seller, and George E. McCoy, the ticket chopper of Third avenue elevated road, arrested charged with the death of C. I. Weber, a Fort Wayne cattle dealer, have been discharged.

Glassworkers on a Strike.

ELWOOD, Ind., Feb. 12.—Owing to differences between the McBeth Glass company and its employees, 400 men went on strike. The men claim that the glass has been so bad for several weeks that they were greatly hampered.

D. M. OGILVIE & CO.

We've been all torn up for the past two weeks. Carpenters, Plasterers, Painters and Paper Hangers have almost taken possession of the store, but it's all over now, and you will hardly know the store. It's nice and clean from cloak room to basement, but this is not all. While the changes have been going on we have been getting in new goods, marking them and getting them in shape to display, and now we are ready. Every department of our store has been replenished with new goods.

Dress Goods.

Not too early to buy a spring dress, when you are positive that later on you will not have as nice a line to select from as you have now. At 50c we are showing a line that for style and real value we defy the efforts of all comers. Not just the ordinary every day 50c dress goods, but stuff that ninety-nine out of every one hundred merchants would mark a bargain at 60c. Then our 75c line is not marked up to $1.00, and with a pencil mark drawn through the $1.00 and marked 75c below, just to give the customer the impression that they are buying $1.00 values for 75c, but are marked 75c, and we will stand over the values we give you for that money. Black Dress Goods are all right for spring. Stacks of them being sold, and we are in it from start to finish on Black Dress Goods. 25c buys all wool Serge; $2.00 gives you the finest thing we show in Silk and Wool Mohairs. All the prices between are represented in our New Dress Goods; and now one word on Cloaks. We are still hammering away at them. Half price on everything of this year's purchase is going to clean them out.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Three bums slept in jail last night.

John R. Bagley is able to be out after a serious illness.

Walter Carnahan, of Fourth street, is ill with typhoid fever.

The McKinley club met last evening, but transacted no business of importance.

The Sons of Veterans will commemorate the birthday of Lincoln this evening.

The ferryboat resumed her trips this morning for the first time in several weeks.

W. A. Hill is very much improved in health, and will be able to be out in a few days.

Miss Sallie Fowler has accepted a position in the decorating department of the East Palestine pottery.

C. W. Kress, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., is in the city purchasing ware for a Memphis, Tenn., crockery firm.

Charles Smith, the mail carrier, is off duty on account of illness. Substitute John Sellers is filling the place.

A large number of young society people of the city will attend a reception given in Wellsville this evening.

The next meeting of the medical association will be held at the residence of Doctor Calhoun, in East End.

A local paper gave some space last evening to matters of which the News Review told its readers a week ago.

Miss Sallie Bowman, of West End, will go to Palestine Tuesday, and take a position in the decorating department of the new pottery.

The report of the township trustees bids fair to be larger than that of last month, unless there is a halt in the list of applications.

Officer Whan scattered a crowd of youngsters on Second street last evening. The police are making an effort to keep the boys within bounds.

The six-day bicycle race now going on in Pittsburgh is attracting much attention among the local sporting fraternity, and Gimm is a strong favorite.

Yesterday was the twentieth anniversary of Henry Scott, and last evening a number of friends called at his home, north of the Dresden pottery, and helped him celebrate the event.

Doctor McFarland will sell all his fast horses in the spring at Silver Thorn park. The track at the park will be fixed up, and it will be made one of the best training quarters in this section.

Charles Howard, the colored ball player of this city, will send his terms to the manager of the Cuban Giants tomorrow. The team will assemble in Johnstown, N. Y., about the middle of April.

One of the horses of a team drawing a heavy load of coal, slipped on the ice at Third and Union streets, yesterday afternoon, and fell. The horse was hurt, and the driver had much trouble in getting the animal to his feet.

The Young Men's Christian Association base ball club are making preparations to reorganize for the coming season. New uniforms will be purchased, and the team will include some of the best ball tossers in the city.

Will Morris has decided to stay in the Young Men's Christian Association work and is at present corresponding with State Secretary Pierce, who has several desirable places where he can put him. He will, however, take a rest for several weeks.

Mrs. A. S. Young was called to Upper Sandusky this morning by the intelligence that her cousin, ex-Congressman Hare, of that place, was dead. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon. Deceased was well known. Apoplexy caused his death.

Ambrose Massey, of the firm of Mountford & Co., was seen by a reporter this morning. He refused to talk, and would not make known the proposition he would make to his partner, John Mountford. A settlement will probably be made some time next week.

Last evening people who were passing along Fifth street were astonished to see two women come running out of Midway alley, and, crossing the street, disappear in the alley toward Fourth street. One of the women was the wife of a well-known resident. The occurrence caused much comment.

Miss Gertrude DeTemple, organist of St. Aloysius church, and Mr. William J. Daugherty, of Wheeling, will be married in the Catholic church Feb. 25, at 9 a. m. After the ceremony they will leave for an eastern trip. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping in a home of their own in Wheeling.

An Avondale resident captured a strange cow yesterday evening. This morning he notified Chief Johnson of the occurrence, and asked what he should do. The chief advised him to keep the cow and milk it until the owner came. The resident, with a tinge of sadness in his voice, replied that the creature was dry.

When the new electric light poles came to the city the company desired to have them shaved. One young man who knew nothing about the work took the contract for 10 cents a pole. After he had worked hard one day, and succeeded in shaving three poles, he threw up the contract and decided he would rather work in some other line.

QUARREL OVER LETTERBOXES.

A Toledo Man Takes Action Against Postmaster General Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A bill in equity has been filed here by Solomon C. Wynne of Toledo against the postmaster general and William D. Mayberry and W. H. Ellis of Detroit to compel the award to Wynne of the contract for furnishing street letterboxes to the government during the next four years. This contract recently was awarded to Mayberry & Ellis.

A restraining order was asked for, but Judge Cox refused to grant it, issuing instead a rule to show cause, which was served on Postmaster General Wilson.

An affidavit was filed by Joseph N. Clouse of St. Louis, the inventor of the box, and who owns a valuable interest therein. He alleges that Superintendent Machen told him that if his letterbox was one which Wynne was interested in (Machen would not have anything to do with it; that his bid averaged $1 lower on each small box and $7 lower on the package boxes; that its rejection was brought about by improper influence on the awarding committee on proposals by Mayberry and Ellis, exerted through Machen and one Alfred D. Cushing, who are alleged to have interest in the box accepted. A flat denial of these charges is made at the post-office department.

HAVE HOPES FOR RECIPROCITY.

Canadian Commissioners Leave Washington Pleased With Their Reception.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Messrs. Cartwright and Davies, the Canadian Liberal cabinet members, have left the city today for their homes. According to the statements of the commissioners they have had a very satisfactory visit, having been given a cordial and hearty reception by the public men on whom they have called.

They have found a decided opinion on the part of leading public men that there should be a thorough investigation into the whole matter of trade between the two countries, which should be made by a commission of competent persons, and the commissioners have no doubt that a reasonable basis can be reached on which reciprocal arrangements can be entered into. In their report to the Dominion government the commissioners will recommend the formation of a commission to make this inquiry, and they hope that similar action will be taken by the government of the United States.

SYLVESTER SCOVEL'S CASE.

He Must First Have a Civil Trial Where Captured.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The state department has been notified that the Spanish authorities will accord Sylvester Scovel, the New York World correspondent arrested in Cuba, a trial before a civil tribunal. The trial, however, must take place originally in Sancti Spiritus, as the law, like that of the United States, requires proceedings to take place in the same province where the offense was committed.

It is probable that in case the verdict is against Scovel in this case the trial in appeal will be entered, which will permit the removal of the case to Havana, according to the desire of Consul General Lee.

MARION CLEVELAND CHRISTENED.

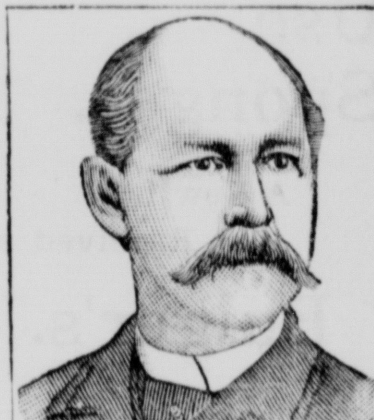

Dr. Sunderland Performed the Ceremony at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Marion, the youngest of the three daughters of President and Mrs. Cleveland, has been christened at the White House. The ceremony was the brief, impressive one of the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Byron S. Sunderland, the pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, which the president and his wife have unusually attended, officiated. The guests were the members of the cabinet and ladies, Mr. and Mrs. Perrine, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Watson Gilder of New York, Mr. Goodyear of Buffalo and Mr. and Mrs. Thurston.

The Governor and Corbett.

OTHER POTTERS TO TRY

East Liverpool May Yet Go to Zanesville.

THOMAS PRICE FOR MANAGER

The Project Has Been Revived and Interested Parties Say It Will Be a Success. Foreign Capital Will Be Largely Interested—A Meeting Tonight.

The opportunities for making money through the manufacture of white ware at the old factory of the American Encaustic Tile company in Zanesville, are so good that a number of local potters have decided to take up the project where it was abandoned a few days ago, and will form a company.

With this end in view a meeting has been called for this evening to which some of the best known operatives in the city have been invited. The prime movers have found much to encourage them, and believe the meeting will be very well attended. They have laid their plans before the men they are anxious to secure, and have reason to believe that they will meet with success.

The plans at present are to purchase the plant and place it in operation at once. Zanesville capital, it is assured, will be only too glad to take a portion of the stock, in fact it is hinted that this second movement to operate the plant originated in Zanesville. It is proposed to have the local men in control, and it is thought enough of the stock can be taken here to carry out that part of the plan without a great deal of effort. Thomas Price will likely be the manager, and among the stockholders will be some of the best known operatives in this part of the country.

RUPTURE.

Don't Fail to Take Advantage of this Occasion.

John C. Calhoun, of New Brighton, Pa., inventor of Calhoun's truss for the relief and cure of rupture, will be at the Lakel house on next Saturday, the 13th, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 7 o'clock p. m., to meet any who may need his services to relieve this dangerous disability. We guarantee perfect satisfaction in every case. We have many cures upon our lists, and can assure you that there is no reason why your child should not get well, if you will get it a proper truss.

THE PIONEERS ORGANIZE.

Old Employees of the Railroad Form a Society.

A meeting was held in Cleveland Wednesday night for the organization of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Employees' Pioneer association. This association is intended to include employees who entered the service of the road at any time between its organization, in 1851, and the consolidation with the Pennsylvania company in 1871. There were about 25 present, and all were very enthusiastic over the project. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution and bylaws, and to draw up a circular to send to out-of-town employees of the road, telling them of the organization. Alexander Bruce was chosen temporary president, and George McGuire temporary secretary. It is expected that another meeting will be held in the course of a week or so, at which out-of-town employees will also be present, when organization will be perfected, and permanent officers elected. The object of the association will be to renew old ties and for social intercourse. It is expected the membership will eventually be from 100 to 125.

SOMETHING WILL DROP.

Republican Leaders Were in Session Last Night.

A number of Wellsville's leading Republicans held a conference at Hotel Fuller last evening, and there are reasons for believing that plans were discussed, which, if carried into effect, will cause something to drop and drop very hard before long. The conference was by no means a public affair, and newspaper men were religiously excluded, but the News Review gained entrance, and was informed that the session was secret. The gentlemen in attendance seemed immensely pleased when the conference was over, and if some remarks can be taken as gospel truth the enemy must keep its eyes wide open from now until election day.

A WONDERFUL REVIVAL.

It Converted Almost All the Sinners in Amsterdam.

Mr. Calhoun, of Jefferson county, was in town last night, and related the particulars of a wonderful meeting recently closed at that place. In summing up the good work done he said:

"The meetings were held during the last three weeks, and 80 persons were converted. Of this number 41 joined the Methodist church, 21 united with the Presbyterian, and the remainder were scattered among the other churches. The meeting is now a thing of the past, so is a great amount of wickedness in that neighborhood."

McGiffin's Sad End.

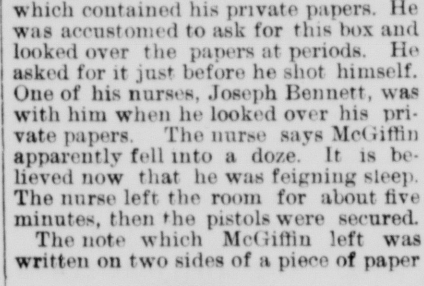

Mystery as to How the Suicide Got Pistols.

COPY OF THE NOTE HE LEFT.

The Wounds Received in the Battle of the Yalu Drove Him Insane—Was Reported to Be Recovering—Had a Record of Heroism.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—How Captain Philo McGiffin of Washington, Pa., late commander of the Chinese battleship Chen Yuen at the battle of Yalu, got the pistol with which he suicided at the Post Graduate hospital, is a mystery. He shot himself over the right ear. A nurse, hearing the pistol shot, entered Captain McGiffin's room and found him sitting up in bed with his back propped up by pillows. Blood was streaming from an ugly wound in the right side of his head. On a little table directly at the head of the bed was one revolver, and on the floor near the bed was another. One chamber had been discharged from the pistol on the table.

When Captain McGiffin was admitted to the hospital a pistol was taken from him. He had with him a tin box which contained his private papers. He was accustomed to ask for this box and looked over the papers at periods. He asked for it just before he shot himself. One of his nurses, Joseph Bennett, was with him when he looked over his private papers. The nurse says McGiffin apparently fell into a doze. It is believed now that he was feigning sleep. The nurse left the room for about five minutes, then the pistols were secured. The note which McGiffin left was written on two sides of a piece of paper torn from a notebook, and read as follows: Memorandum—Look alive that the bed is not fire by my shot. My compliments and adieus to all. I regret that my destination must remain to you unknown, but you may guess. With apologies to Miss Phelps for the row—it is the way that all guns have. Au revoir.

On the opposite side of the piece of paper was written: Please give my goodbye to Mr. Gorham (a nurse). My compliments to Mr. Bennett. Incidentally I may note that though I affect my exit, it is not the hegeira anticipated by the learned staff.

P. N. M. Captain McGiffin became insane from wounds received at the battle of the Yalu. He was being doctored and was reported to be better.

Philo N. McGiffin, who commanded the Chinese ironclad Chen Yuen at the battle of the Yalu river, was born in Washington, Pa., in 1862. He was a son of Captain Norton McGiffin, who served in the Mexican war with distinction and who was colonel of the Eighty-eighth Pennsylvania volunteers during the war of the rebellion. Philo McGiffin graduated from the naval academy at Annapolis with high honors in 1882.

The personal bravery of Captain McGiffin won him admiration long before the battle of the Yalu river. He was thrown by an accident of travel into the midst of the great railroad strike in Pittsburgh in 1877 and tendered his services to the city. They were accepted, and during the strike he distinguished himself by personal bravery, running an engine singlehanded through a mob of strikers to rescue some soldiers imprisoned in the roundhouse. He was awarded a gold medal and a vote of thanks by the city council.

While he was a cadet in the Naval academy McGiffin received the thanks of the secretary of the navy for rescuing two children from a burning building.

Some two years later McGiffin was complimented in a general order from the secretary of the navy for an act of personal bravery in going aloft to secure a spar on the Constitution during a hurricane, when the sailors would not venture into the rigging.

After graduating near the head of his class, McGiffin was honorably discharged in 1894, owing to reduction in the number of midshipmen.

He entered the service of China during the Franco-Chinese war and was distinguished for gallantry, was sent to England to superintend the construction of ironclads, and at the outbreak of hostilities with Japan was put in command of the Chinese squadron. His part in the battle of the Yalu is well known, and although it was a defeat for the Chinese fleet, it accomplished its desired end in preventing the landing of a Japanese force in the rear of the Chinese army.

A telegram has been received from the mother of Captain McGiffin asking that the body of the dead man be dressed in those military clothes which he wore in China and be sent to Washington, Pa. The body will, it is expected, be forwarded today.

No Further Civil Service Extension.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—No further extensions of the civil service system will be made during the remainder of the present administration. This statement is made on the authority of President Proctor of the civil service commission, who says President Cleveland has no intention of issuing an order bringing the host of fourth-class post-offices into the civil service.

OTHER POTTERS TO TRY

East Liverpool May Yet Go to Zanesville.

THOMAS PRICE FOR MANAGER

The Project Has Been Revived and Interested Parties Say It Will Be a Success. Foreign Capital Will Be Largely Interested—A Meeting Tonight.

The opportunities for making money through the manufacture of white ware at the old factory of the American Encaustic Tile company in Zanesville, are so good that a number of local potters have decided to take up the project where it was abandoned a few days ago, and will form a company.

With this end in view a meeting has been called for this evening to which some of the best known operatives in the city have been invited. The prime movers have found much to encourage them, and believe the meeting will be very well attended. They have laid their plans before the men they are anxious to secure, and have reason to believe that they will meet with success.

The plans at present are to purchase the plant and place it in operation at once. Zanesville capital, it is assured, will be only too glad to take a portion of the stock, in fact it is hinted that this second movement to operate the plant originated in Zanesville. It is proposed to have the local men in control, and it is thought enough of the stock can be taken here to carry out that part of the plan without a great deal of effort. Thomas Price will likely be the manager, and among the stockholders will be some of the best known operatives in this part of the country.

RUPTURE.

Don't Fail to Take Advantage of this Occasion.

John C. Calhoun, of New Brighton, Pa., inventor of Calhoun's truss for the relief and cure of rupture, will be at the Lakel house on next Saturday, the 13th, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 7 o'clock p. m., to meet any who may need his services to relieve this dangerous disability. We guarantee perfect satisfaction in every case. We have many cures upon our lists, and can assure you that there is no reason why your child should not get well, if you will get it a proper truss.

McGiffin's Sad End.

Mystery as to How the Suicide Got Pistols.

COPY OF THE NOTE HE LEFT.

The Wounds Received in the Battle of the Yalu Drove Him Insane—Was Reported to Be Recovering—Had a Record of Heroism.

New York, Feb. 12.—How Captain Philo McGiffin of Washington, Pa., late commander of the Chinese battleship Chen Yuen at the battle of Yalu, got the pistol with which he suicided at the Post Graduate hospital, is a mystery. He shot himself over the right ear. A nurse, hearing the pistol shot, entered Captain McGiffin's room and found him sitting up in bed with his back propped up by pillows. Blood was streaming from an ugly wound in the right side of his head. On a little table directly at the head of the bed was one revolver, and on the floor near the bed was another. One chamber had been discharged from the pistol on the table.

When Captain McGiffin was admitted to the hospital a pistol was taken from him. He had with him a tin box which contained his private papers. He was accustomed to ask for this box and looked over the papers at periods. He asked for it just before he shot himself. One of his nurses, Joseph Bennett, was with him when he looked over his private papers. The nurse says McGiffin apparently fell into a doze. It is believed now that he was feigning sleep. The nurse left the room for about five minutes, then the pistols were secured. The note which McGiffin left was written on two sides of a piece of paper
